NATURAL COLLAGEN

COLWAY® presents the revolutionary Polish invention for retaining youthful, smooth skin: Natural Collagen. Collagen is a "protein of youth," which constitutes more than 30% of human protein mass and as much as 70% of skin proteins. Collagen and elastin in the dermis form a flexible mesh, which gives the dermis its elasticity and firmness, and binds water, lipophilic substances and is also responsible for the condition of connective tissues.

Polish collagen hydrates are extracted directly from fish skins at the molecular stage of protein synthesis. This unique method is not known in any other part of the world. Evolutionarily, it is only tertiary collagen, while the world of cosmetology knows only collagen in the form of fibrous hydrolysates or cattle collagen fibrils – the high molecular weight protein which is unable to cross the protective barrier of the epidermis.

The product is also unique because it retains its helical conformation, i.e. in the form of native, "live" protein, and can be safely stored in the product's glass bottle for many years.

NATURAL COLLAGEN

Collagen is a key component of our skin. Abundant levels of collagen will help keep your skin looking young and healthy. Body collagen is produced in manufacturing cells: fibroblasts, and chondrocytes, in processes known as collagen synthesis.

Natural Collagen does not concentrate on the effects of aging, as many anti-aging cosmetics do -- but on the causes of aging skin -- mainly, collagen deficiency.

Natural collagen's triple helix decomposed into single spirals and peptide chains penetrate the epidermis and consequently stimulate fibroblasts to produce body collagen. Natural Collagen should be protected from excessive heat -over 25°C. Each package is protected by a special mini styrofoam thermos, so that You will always receive a product of the highest quality.

In Polish new generation collagens, the triple helix has been subjected to controlled dissimilation to single helices, which allowed achieving a collagen gel resistant to thermal despiralisation through a physical process, Polish collagen is biologically active, while retaining its native form. It allows supplementing the skin with a protein of youthfulness, gradually and in a non-invasive manner.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

HOW TO USE?

NATURAL COLLAGEN

It is essential to prepare the skin for collagen treatment by exfoliating the skin 1-2 times a week to increase collagen absorption.

Natural Collagen is offered in three formulas (Platinum, Silver, and Graphite) that are suitable for different parts of the body. Apply a thin layer of collagen to freshly washed and damp skin. Allow the collagen to completely dry and be fully absorbed. You may feel a slight tightening or "pulling" of the skin. This is normal and indicates that the collagen is doing its job. This sensation will disappear once you apply a moisturizing cream.

If visible traces of collagen remain on your skin that resemble "flakes" or dry skin, this indicates that you have applied too much of the product.

The inspiration to create Colvita® was drawn from Natural Collagen, the discovery of Polish biotechnology obtained from biologically active tertiary collagen from fish skin. # COLVITA

Lyophilisation is the freezing of pure collagen to minus 40°C under vacuum conditions and the subliminal removal of water from it (drying). This ensures the highest purity, biological durability of nutrients and amino acids preserved in the natural form. This process also allows the components to maintain an excellent hygroscopicity of the product, and therefore, extremely high assimilability.

This stand-out customer favorite can be attributed to our unique collagen hydrate formula. Colvita offers a new approach to tissue repair. Thanks to the Vitamin E in the formula, the skin will be smoother and softer and expect even more results when used with our Collagen gel externally on the skin. The human collagen chains are composed of about 20 amino acids. Only a small portion of collagen is produced metabolically by the body. The rest must be supplied by diet. It is worth nourishing oneself in a way that provides constant replenishing of the amino acids storage for cells that produce and service collagen. Colvita® is produced from lyophilized fish collagen.

VITAMIN C-OLWAY

The vitamin C in our capsules is 100% bio-organic. Vitamin C is essential in order for the body to function at its optimum level. Vitamin C-olway is obtained from natural sources, including sprouting buckwheat and bitter oranges. These two plants are now recognized as two of the most valuable natural resources, due to their high bioavailability and excellent flavonoid links. We ensured that the quality and efficiency of our raw material extracts was higher than other supplementary products available on the market.

Vitamin C-olway is an innovative supplement that helps in the production of collagen, keeping blood vessels, bones and skin in good condition. # LUNACOL

Lunasin is a vegetable-based peptide. It is the first and only known epigenetic food – it means it can influence the increase of gene activity and their qualitative progression. Studies have confirmed the anticancer properties of lunasin. Lunasin has been carefully obtained from non-GMO organic soybeans. Lunasin is not responsible for allergic reactions caused by soy products. It also has no effect on the hormonal balance, as it is not associated with phytoestrogens in any way.

Lysozyme (also called muramidase) is a highly stable cationic protein. It is the slowest of the known enzymes, but it is also highly potent. It was first described by Alexander Fleming, who considered lysozyme (a basic factor in the innate immunity of all living organisms), not penicillin, as his greatest discovery. Its functions are still being discovered, and the most important of them is a strong bacteriostatic activity, which is particularly high when muramidase is combined with lactoferrin. The synergistic antibacterial effect of these two proteins was identified, among other things, in the milk of breastfeeding mothers and in tears.

Ingredients in the recommended daily dose (2 capsules):

- Yeast extract (Sacharomyces cerevisiae) 700mg - including beta-D-glucan - 175mg
- Lysozyme - 30mg
- Soybeans extract 10mg - including lunasin - 1mg

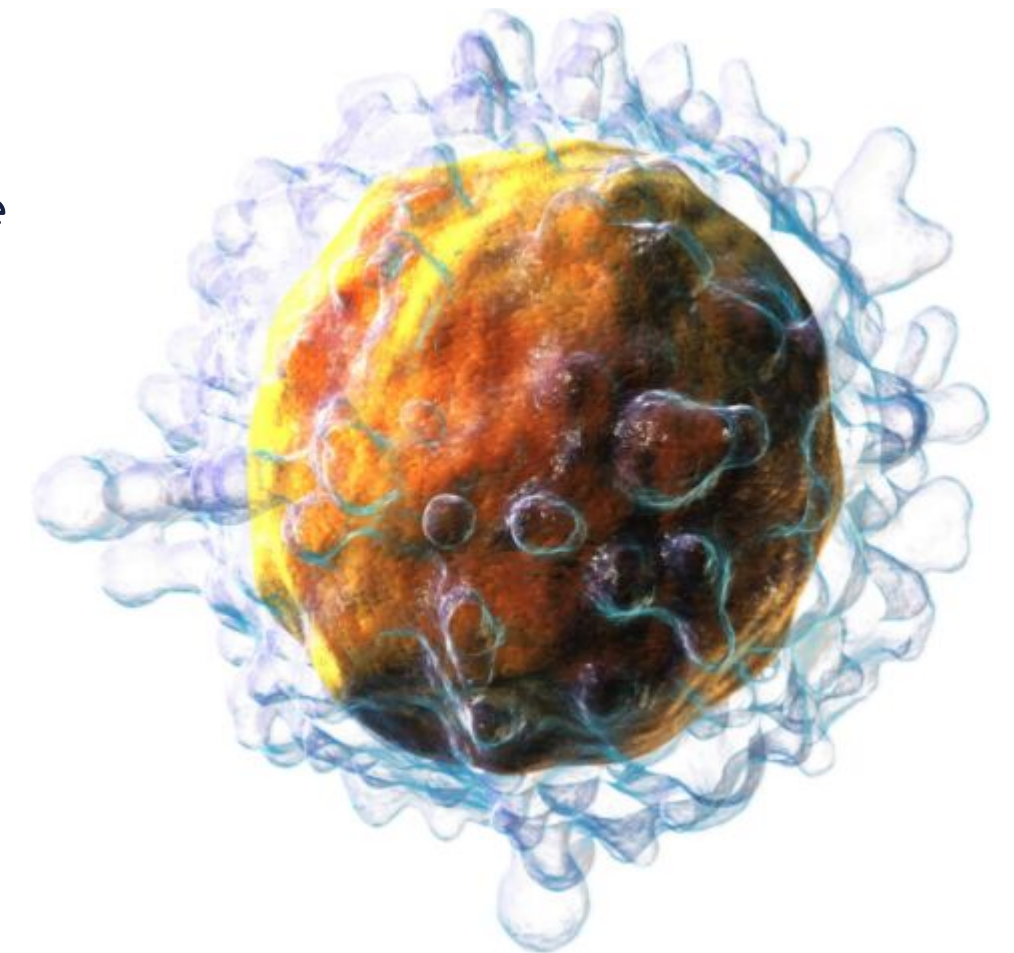

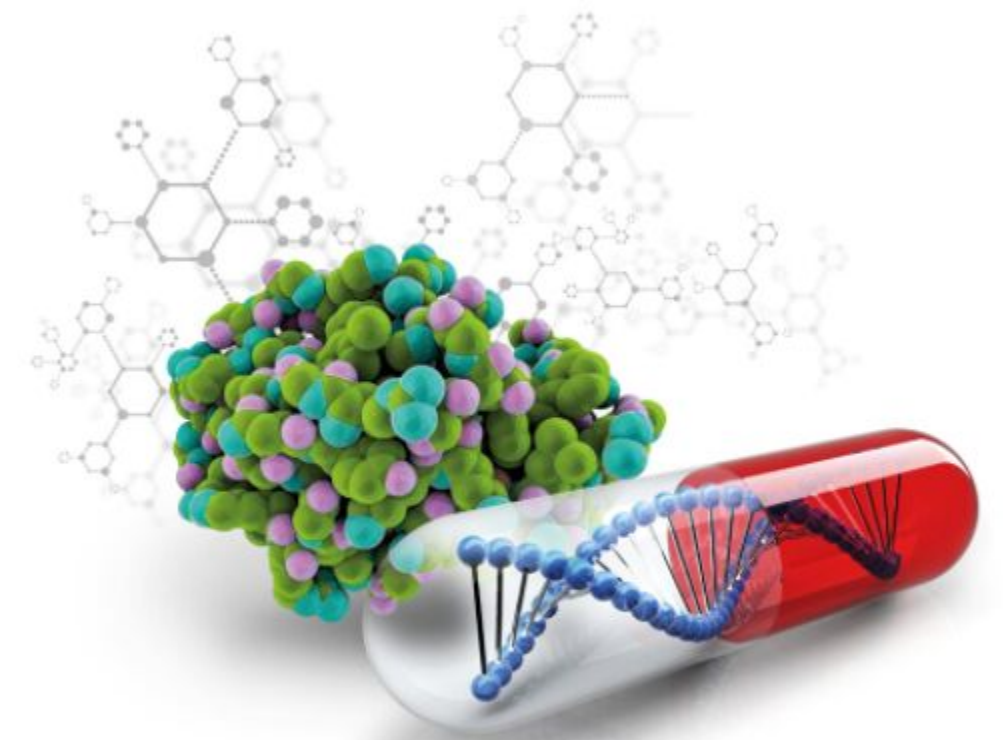

---

LUNACOL

Lysozyme is present in our digestive tract, which is safe for our body. Now that an increasing number of pathogenic strains have become resistant to antibiotics, lysozyme supplementation can be important for improving immunity.

Equally important are beta-glucans. They are the most vital component of dietary fiber. Beta - glucans strengthen the body's first line of defense, the macrophages. They increase the activity of immune cells, increasing their ability to fight intruders. They also affect the rate of blood production in the bone marrow. In addition, they regulate the absorption of glucose, so that after a meal, blood sugar is better regulated.

60 capsules

The second group of components of Colamina are concentrated, colloidal mineral elements obtained from the only place in the world, in Utah. The deposits originated 100 million years ago on the basis of hundreds of plant species growing on extremely fertile soils, unusual in the bed of hundreds of plant species growing in extremely fertile soils, unusual in our current environment. 70 bioorganic minerals of an extremely high degree of absorbency, among others: calcium, phosphorus, potassium, sodium, magnesium, sulphur, iodine, selenium, copper, zinc, boron, molybdenum, beryllium, lithium, chromium, manganese, iron, thallium, vanadium, and many others – constitute particularly valuable sources of trace elements, enabling complete remineralisation of the body.
